DETAILED ACTION

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it contains the term "means" (i.e. legal phraseology) throughout. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

2. Claims 13-24, as newly amended/presented are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 13 as newly amended, "said pallet" in both lines 9 and 11 (2 places total) lacks clear antecedent basis as pallets per se are previously recited in line 1 and line 8.

Claim 15, note the terms "said pallet" on line 3 (2 places) and line 6 (i.e. 3 places total) lack clear antecedent basis in view of the confusing language noted above regarding base claim 13. Note similar confusing terms in claim 18 – line 4, claim 19 – line 3, and claim 21 – line 3, claim 22 – both lines 4 and 6.

Claim 21, the recited locking means on line 2 is confusing as it is not clear if/how such relates back to the locking means of the base claim. Such term appears to be a double inclusion of the locking means of claim 13.

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3612

4. Claims 13-14, 18 and 24, as best understood and as newly amended/presented, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Pavlik '826.

Note pallet 10, chassis 12,14+, locomotion means/rollers 40, and locking means 89,90+ as broadly claimed.

Regarding the newly added language to claim 13, the locking means is engagable to a container wall (e.g. a container bottom wall) or an adjacent pallet (e.g. a top side of a lower adjacent pallet) as newly broadly claimed and as best understood. Note also, in as much as a container or adjacent pallet per se are not positively recited elements of the instant claimed combination, the functional/positional language relating thereto is given little patentable weight.

Claim 14, note roller at 79,81.

Claim 18 note first locking means 89,90+ and second locking means 79+ as broadly claimed and as best understood. Note also element 106+ defines an additional locking means as broadly claimed. The locking means define a locking device as newly broadly claimed and as best understood.

Claim 24, the device is configured as newly broadly claimed and as best understood.

5. Claims 13-14, 18, 21, and 24, as best understood and as newly amended/presented, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Seo '365.

Note pallet (figure 1 embodiment), locomotion means/lower rollers, and locking means (including the side rollers) as broadly claimed.

Art Unit: 3612

Regarding the newly added language to claim 13, the locking means is engagable to a container wall or an adjacent pallet as newly broadly claimed and as best understood.

Note also, in as much as a container or adjacent pallet per se are not positively recited elements of the instant claimed combination, the functional/positional language relating thereto is given little patentable weight.

Claim 18, note the side rollers define second locking means and the element at reference 20 or 20' defines first locking means as broadly claimed. The locking means define a locking device as newly broadly claimed and as best understood.

Claim 21, the other element 20 or 20' on the trailing edge of the pallet reads on the locking device. Note extensible member 43+ is movable into close abutment as broadly claimed and as best understood. Note also, in as much as the rear door per se is not a positively recited element of the instant claimed combination, the functional /positional language relating thereto is given little patentable weight.

. Claim 24, the device is configured as newly broadly claimed and as best understood.

6. Claims 15-17, 19-20, and 22-23 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claims 25-29 are allowed.

8. Applicant's arguments filed 9-12-07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3612

Regarding applicant's comments directed to the Pavlik reference, the following should be noted. While it may be that the locking mechanism of Pavlik is attached to an underside of the pallet structure, such is deemed readable on the newly added language of claim 13 as best understood. It should be noted, in as much as multiple pallets are recited in new claim 13, it is not entirely clear as to which pallet (i.e. the pallet for use with a container or the adjacent pallet) the terms "the pallet" at the end of the claim refer – thus making application of the prior art difficult. Note a pallet "edge", as broadly defined, does not preclude a reading of the locking mechanism of Pavlik as being so located. Clearly the Pavlik locking mechanism is in an edge region, and no specific structure in the claim language precludes fairly reading the mechanism as being located at an "edge" as such.

Regarding applicant's comments directed toward the Seo reference, the following should be noted. To the extent that the relied upon locking means of Seo would serve at least to some degree to immobilize the pallet in certain directions, such is deemed fairly readable on the locking device as broadly recited and as best understood.

In general it should be noted, clearly applicant's invention as disclosed is different than the relied upon prior art patents. Moreover, applicant's newly amended claims 13+ as best understood appear to be beginning to move away from the teachings of the prior art and very likely toward additional patentable material beyond that which has already been indicated as allowable. The instant claims however, as currently presented, remain sufficiently broad that application of the prior art under 35USC section 102 as detailed above is deemed warranted.

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
